[Washington Star.]

A Democratic senator now in this city gives some information as to the reorganization of the Senate by the Republicans this winter. This senator was, prior to the adjournment of the last Congress, authorized to wait upon the Republicans and inform them that the Democrats would not offer any obstacle to the election of a President pro tempore, as they were desirous of sident pro tempore, as they were desirous of avoiding an extra session. The Democratic senator gave the information to Senator Allison, and in pursuance of this Mr. Ed-munds was elected to succeed Judge Damunds was elected to succeed Judge Davis. Since the Democratic senator referred to has been in Washington this time, and during the past few days he has talked with Senator Edmunds about the reorganization. Mr. Edmunds has been advised that the Democrats recognize the right of the Republicans to control the Senate by reason of their majority, and that they (the Democrats) will not in any manner obstruct the Republicans in reorganizing the body. Mr. Edmunds said that the Republicans will, in due time, after the meeting of Conwill, in due time, after the meeting of Con-gress, proceed to reorganize the Senate; that Senator Mahone will be accorded pre-cisely the same consideration as any Re-publican senator, and no more; that no special concessions as to the secretaryship or any other office will be accorded him.

In reply to a question re-garding his opinien of General Mahone's address to the Reädjuster party of that State, the Congressman said: "We all unite in saying that Mahone's address is a monstrous outrage upon our people, but the Democratic State Committee will meet at Richmond on Thursday next, when an au-thoritative answer will be made to the address. Until then the Democrats of Vir-ginia asked a suspension of public opinion from their friends at the North. The ad-GO TO J. M. How a Brig Was Saved. FISH-OIL POURED ON THE WATERS TO CALM THE TROUBLED SEA.

A Newport telegram says: The brig Louisa Capel, Captain Parker, of Yar-mouth, N. S., arrived here last night after encountering the most extraordinary hurricanes and gales the captain ever knew. He thinks the vessel and all on board would have been lost but for the fact that he had a large cargo of fish-oil.

The waves swept continuously over the vescel and finally the deck load began to shp, when he gave orders for a number of small holes to be bered in the casks containing the oil. While this was being done the men engaged were nearly swept over-board; but in a few minutes the oil trickled on the deck through the scuppers and into the ocean, and almost as soon as the oil reached the water the waves were less boisterous, and in less than a half hour there was an unmistakable diminution in the force and number of the waves that broke over the ship. In an hour they had almost entirely subsided.

The chief mate says he has never before seen oil used, but he is enthusiastic in the declaration that the fish-oil saved the brig,
